L. & N. Inspection.

Gen'l Mgr. Evans, Gen'l Pass. Agt. Stone, Supt. Hood, and number of the higher officials of the L. & N. are out on a tour of inspection of the company's properties. It is the intention of the management to make the L. & N. second to none in point of train service. At present it has the best freight service in the south, and after the improvements contemplated have been made, the passenger service will be the best in the country south of the Ohio river. When the L. & N. starts out to make an improvement, you can rest assured that it will be the very best that money can do.

Misses Jennie and Lucy Arnold have decided to sell their handsome dwelling on Danville street, and will dispose of same to the highest bidder next county court day, the 26th. This is a new two story house, with six rooms and hall. It is a desirable piece of property and will bring a good price.

Bright Went Go.

The many friends of Henry C Bright and his estimable family will be glad to learn that they are not going to Louisville to live. Mr. Bright has bought an interest in Tip Bruce's business, to take effect Jan. 1st. The new firm will discard the livery and hitch business, and to the feed and coal lines will add a big stock of implements, vehicles and harness. The new establishment will be a hustling one and will be another drawing card for the town.—Danville Advocate.

Spot 'Em.

Since cold weather set in, the usual appeals for charity come from the same set of negro men and women who lived off the public last winter. Many of these parties were watched during the past summer, and not more than a half-dozen worked when they had good wages offered them. Its all right to contribute to the wants of the destitute, but helping those who will not work when they have opportunity is too much sugar for a cent. Size up all applicants well before giving out your cold cash.

Of Interest to Teachers.

To County Superintendents:—On account of the payment of the deficit due city schools on last school year, and the additional fact that the sheriffs of the various counties have been very slow in settling with the Auditor, payment of the November draft will be delayed, I cannot now state just when it will be paid, but it will, of course, be sent out as soon as possible. Regretting that this state of affairs exists, and assuring you that it is unavoidable under the circumstances. Very respectfully,

H. V. Chesney, Supt. Pub. Inst.

Foot Ball.

Richmond Pantagraph:—The Lancaster foot ball team which visited our city Saturday mopped up the High School eleven to the tune of 10 to 2. Game was exciting and stubbornly contested from start to finish, and the result may have been different but for the interference of the crowd, which blocked several good plays by both teams. The home team suffered more, we believe by this interference. The Lancaster team was admirably managed by little Charlie West and the way their backs hit the High School line was a caution. A return game will probably be played in Lancaster at an early date.

The Southern.

It has been stated time and time again in the columns of THE RECORD that the building of the Burgin-Jellico extension largely depended upon the people along the right of way. We are now more assured of the fact than ever, after a recent conversation with a gentleman who lately had a talk with some of the higher officials of this road. He was positively informed that if the people of Garrard county desired the road they would have to, as near as possible, fulfill their promise made when the matter was first brought before the officials of the company. As to the probability of the road being built, he stated that he was fully satisfied that work would be commenced in the early spring, and that if the right of way was secured in this county, the road would be built through Lancaster on the route as surveyed. This is not idle talk, but facts, and if the people of Garrard ever expect to get another road now is the time for them to act for them.

Water wagons keep the road hot between here and Dix river.

Our line of suspenders and Shirts is complete and our prices in reach of all Patterson & Symphon.

Colored camel's hair chevrons, red mixed venetian, black striped crepons and many others too numerous to mention at Joseph's.

If you call for Potts flour at any of the leading stores in Lancaster, and they haven't got it, order it direct from mills. H. C. Potts, Buckeye, Ky.

The law prohibiting the slaughter of quail expires today. The birds are said to be scarce in this section, but hunters sometimes talk like fishermen, you know.

The Poor Sale.

The inclement weather kept many from the sale of Col. J. W. Poor's personal effects last week, but a good crowd was on hand and fair prices prevailed. Mules brought $85 to $140, cows $15 to $40, horses $15 to $100, cattle $3 and 4c; some corn in shock $1.70.

A Peculiar Death.

A story is told of a Madison county farmer who lost a cow in a very queer manner. Last week the animal got out of the pasture and in rumaging through a summer kitchen she found and old umbrella and a cake of yeast. The yeast fermented in the poor beast's stomach, raised the umbrella and she died in horrible agony from expansion.

Good Reading, Cheap.

The RECORD desires to call attention of its readers to the fact that on January first, the price of the Twice-A-Week Courier-Journal will be advanced in price. To all subscribers of THE RECORD who pay in advance, we are sending THE RECORD and the Twice-A-Week Courier-Journal for the remarkably low price of $1.25. To all subscribers who pay a year in advance (which is nothing but justice), we will send the two papers for $1.25, but bear in mind this offer is only good for a few weeks.

Good Work in Louisville.

Courier-Journal:—The work at the Broadway Christian church is progressing splendidly. The new pastor, Rev. George Gowen, began work just two months ago with the congregation greatly disheartened and saddened over the death of their former pastor, Charles Allan Thomas, but the congregation now has the seating capacity of the church and a feeling of hope pervades the whole congregation. There have been many additions to the congregation and there have been fifteen or eighteen baptisms in the last three weeks.

Death of Mrs. Leavell.

Mrs. John A. Leavell died at the family residence on Stanford street in this city, Saturday morning at an early hour. Mrs. Leavell has been a constant sufferer for a long time, and for the past few months her death has been momentarily expected. She was a true christian woman, who went through life doing good for those about her. She leaves a husband and several children, who have much sympathy in their great bereavement. Funeral services were held at the Lancaster Cemetery Monday morning at ten o'clock.

281 From 1 to 5.00.

That might be a riddle or an invitation to a church fair, but it isn't. It's a concise way of calling public attention to the fact that The Royal Tailors, of Chicago, have authorized us to reduce prices on 281 Fall and Winter Patterns all the way from $1 to $5 per suit—and we've done it! Our prices on this high grade tailoring were very low before, but now they afford absolutely the best investment a man ever made in the way of dress. Come and see these patterns; we have them all; costs you nothing to look and but little to buy—and our guarantee is your safety-valve.

[And here's a friendly tip: They won't last always.] J. C. Hemphill.

Hustling For Improvements.

The president, general manager and other high officials of the L. & N., railroad, are out on a tour of inspection this week, and it was reported they would pass over this branch of the road, but a letter from Gov. Bradley to the president brought information that they would come no nearer than Richmond. Tuesday afternoon, Messrs R. Kinnaird, Jno. M. Farra, H. A. B. Marksbury and Louis Landram met the party at Richmond and made an earnest appeal for the building of a passenger depot in Lancaster. The officials listened attentively and General Manager Evans instructed Mr. Hood, superintendent of this division, to prepare a diagram of the property, and the matter would be carefully considered. A first-class depot could be built at small cost, and would be a great help to the passenger travel in Lancaster. The present arrangement is not only inconvenient, but very dangerous, as passengers are compelled to cross the side track to reach the trains. Whether the efforts of the committee will bring forth fruit remains to be seen. There's one thing certain, and that is we will never have up-to-date facilities if we don't hustle for them.

All the cattle guards on the L. & N. have been whitewashed. Dave Collier keeps this section of the road in good shape, and it ranks with the best on the K. C. division.

Will Preach Sunday.

Eld. A. R. Moore writes that he will fill his pulpit in this city next Sunday morning and evening. He has had a very successful meeting at Clinton, Ky.

On a Cold Trail.

We understand that many applications have been made for the new hotel, "provided bar rooms are opened in Lancaster." If the building is not rented until this is done, then cob webs will be thick on its walls ere it is opened.

The gentlemen who went to Richmond to confer with the L. & N. officials are under obligations to Hon. Jerry Sullivan for several favors. Mr. Sullivan is not only one of the best lawyers in the land, but a mighty clever gentleman.

Held Over.

The case of Luther Ray, charged with killing Edgar Brown, was called before Judge Burnside Friday. A great many witnesses were examined and it required 'til Monday to finish the case. Ray was held in the sum of $1,000 to the grand jury. The bail was promptly given and Ray released from custody. These young men had many friends in the county, and everybody deeply deplores the trouble.

Having received many inquiries, we will say the comic drawings recently appearing in the RECORD were made by our townsman, H. Clay Sutton. Mr. Sutton's work is much commended. He has made much work for city papers, and all pronounce it first-class. All his drawings are made from memory.

River Improvements.

In the annual report of Brig. Gen. Wilson, chief of the U. S. engineering corps, the estimate given for improvements upon the Kentucky river is placed at $2,485,000. The amount already spent is $1,182,771. No estimate is made for the operating and care of the locks and dams on the Kentucky river. The system is in good navigable condition, but many parts are nearly worn out and must soon be replaced.

Democratic County Committee.

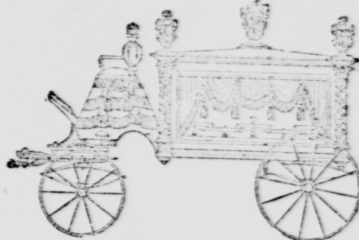

On Monday, November 19, the Democratic voters in each of the precincts in the State will hold mass meetings and elect their precinct committee-men. This will be done in accordance with a resolution adopted by the State Convention in Louisville on June 14. County Chairman Farris has posted notices calling attention of democrats to the importance of attending to this matter.

The newspaper business has suffered greatly in the past from the fact that publishers do not get together on important matters of mutual interest when by judicious combination all things necessary for the betterment of the craft may be obtained, says an exchange. The time for co-operation is at hand and the sooner publishers recognize the fact the better will they be prepared to protect their interests and be placed on an equal footing with other business concerns.

A JUDGE in San Francisco has ruled that a man has the right to stay out all night and cannot be compelled to give his wife any reason therefor. The judge is evidently a single man and has much to learn. If he can invent some way to prevent a storm upon hubby's return after a night with the boys, he will have his fortune made. All of Edison's inventions will pass into insignificance in comparison with his discovery.

We notice on the society page of a daily paper that it is no longer "the style" to gossip and talk scandal. If this hellish practice has been kept up because it was the style, the world at large will offer heartfelt thanks for Dame Fashion's notion to change the fad. There are many people in the world though who do nothing but gossip, and "style" or no "style" the vile tongues will continue to wag.

Now that Mr. McKinley has the election off his hands, he might put in some of his valuable time in settling troubles in the Philippines. If those at the head of Uncle Sam's affairs would work to this end as diligently as they did to get back into power, the trouble would soon be a thing of the past. It should be adjusted quickly, even if Uncle Samuel has to make some concessions.

Up at Barbourville the other night bank robbers locked a doctor in the vault, and the festive saw-bones were compelled to remain 'til the clerks opened for business next morning. This was pretty rough treatment, but there's a bright side to all questions; in this case, his patients were safe from harm during his incarceration.

MR. BRYAN has declined an offer of an editorial position on a Denver afternoon paper at a salary of $10,000 a year. He says: "I shall remain here, and in the future, as in the past, defend with tongue and pen the principles which I believe to be right and the policies I believe to be wise."

THE election of McKinley and Beckham brings cold comfort to the pie hunters. The former dished out all at his command four years ago, and Beckham has only a few crumbs to distribute. This is pretty hard on the boys, but is quite fortunate to the newly elected officials.

TO AN unprejudiced mind, the cry of "Fraud" by both parties in the recent election is very amusing. What each party didn't do was not worth doing, and the old tale of the pot calling the kettle black covers the case very nicely, indeed.

THE title of "Mr." is the very best for any American, be he office-holder or office-seeker.—Courier-Journal.

And plain "John Smith" comes still nearer covering the case.

Mrs. — Champ, grandmother of our merchant, Will Champ, died on the 10th, after many years of patient suffering. She was buried at Old Lick cemetery.

Jack Adams, one of the red-hotest democrats in the county, was so absorbed over the election that he walked home and left his horse standing hitched to the fence.

The election passed off unusually quiet here, the storm of politics has blown over and everybody has buckled down and gone to work as though nothing had ever happened.

If some of the land owners here would sell off building lots we would soon have a city. There have been several parties here looking for a location, but there is not a vacant house in the place.

Thieves are getting so numerous around here it is dangerous for a person to lay down and go to sleep. J. W. Smith had five hogs stolen out of his pen. Mrs. Ann Broadbent lost several hundred pounds of tobacco and a lot of corn.

The cold hand of death was laid upon the little baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Beazley, Friday morning at 8 o'clock. The little fellow was well and hearty, and in thirty-six hours he lay a corpse before a weeping father and a heart broken mother. The little form was followed to Paint Lick cemetery by a number of relatives and friends and there placed to rest.

To remove a troublesome corn or bunion: First soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it, then pour it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlaine's Pain Balm twice daily; rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A breeder of sheep who has lost some of his animals from the dogs of neighbors believes that instead of putting bells on sheep every dog should have a bell or be destroyed. It is an idea worthy of consideration by those interested in protecting sheep from dogs.

Of the $400,000,000 which is estimated as the amount of damage threatening all the crops of the U. States through insect pests, it is believed that fully one-fourth is averted by means of remedies and preventives discovered by entomologists of the Department of Agriculture.

Every grower of hogs should take pains to lay by as much succulent food for winter use as possible. The hog thrives best when he has an occasional feed of roots and pumpkins. He wants plenty of water with his food, and when it is impossible to give it in the form of root crops the next best thing is to give him some well dampened clover hay.—Farmers Home Journal.

Thousands of dollars are annually lost by wool-growers by reason of the manner in which the clips are sent to the market. Many a clip is discounted a full cent or more per pound on account of the bad condition in which it comes to the market, while nothing is gained by the seller either in saving of time or labor. A clean, well tied fleece always meets a warm welcome among buyers, sorters and millmen.—Sheep Breeder.

"Is marriage a failure? I should say not," remarked an Oregon farmer. "Why, there's Lucindy, gits up in the mornin', milks six cows, gits breakfast, starts four children to school, looks arter the other three, feeds the hens, likewise the hogs, likewise some motherless sheep, skims twenty pans of milk, washes the clothes, gits dinner eat, cetera, cetera. Think I could hire anybody to do it for what she gits? Not much! Marriage, sir, is a success; a great success!"—Woman's Journal.

Salt draws the juices from beef in corning, toughens the fiber, makes it very indigestible and less nutritious. On cucumbers it draws out the water, toughens the fiber and renders them very indigestible. Salt acts in exactly the same way on fish as on meat. There are two ways of considering these changes. I would hardly say that salt destroys the food value, although it robs the flesh of part of its food value by making it less digestible.—Mrs. S. T. Rorer in August Ladies' Home Journal.

It won't be long now until Nature will get her refrigerator down to the necessary temperature and we country folks will be in the very midst of that season of all seasons—"hog killing time," with its toothsome spare-ribs; tender-joins, juicy and rich; cracklins, crisp and flaky; chitterlings, snowy and flexible and fit for the palate of a king, the backbone, its recesses redundant with lean flesh tender as a partridge breast; heaping jars of home-made lard cooling from a bluish liquid into a solid white, and last—and best of all—country sausage, pliant with sage and crumbling at the touch of a fork. Ye gods! what a feast.—EX.

Those who would like to keep a few sweet potatoes for winter use can do so in this way. I save the largest and those that are free from bruises. Lay them in the sun for a day. Then line a box well with paper. Lay the potatoes in carefully. Keep them in a dry place until cold weather, and then put them in a room where they will not freeze. The paper is a protection from frost. I save mine from those I dig for use. I find they will keep if dug after frost, but I prefer those dug before the vines are touched. I have kept them in this way until the first of June.—Mrs. N. Ryneason in Epitome.

MARSH'S FORECAST—According to the weather prophet Marsh's readings the present month will be seasonable until the 12th or 14th, when the first cold wave will strike the Ohio Valley. From that date until the close of the month it will be cold. There will be good stages of water during the entire month. The winter is to be a severe one. Extreme cold weather is booked from the 22d of December until the last of February. A hurricane is scheduled for the North Atlantic between the 6th and 8th of November. These storms will rage fiercest in the South, particularly in Louisiana and Texas. A blizzard is to visit the northwest between the 12th and 14th of December.

In hemp localities, hemp is reported as selling at $5 each 112 pounds.... Strother Dean, of McAfee, sold on the 6th 20 fat hogs, average wt. 260 lbs., at 4c.... Cozatt & Vandiver last Monday delivered 19 head of 1,070-lb steers at $4.31. These steers were bought at the Cozatt sale in Boyle county.... Morris Threlkeld has sold to Eisenman & Co., of Louisville, ten car loads of baled straw delivered in the city at $4.75 per ton, and 4 car loads of clover hay in the bale at $11.50 per ton. The straw brought in the nice sum of $600 and the hay about $200. Farmers are beginning to realize that there is more in straw than there was ever dreamed of.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

For many years to come the prices of cattle must be good, especially for the better class of meat, says an exchange. The recent depression had the effect of checking the breeding of cattle of all kinds and the number of cattle in the country fell steadily for a number of years, says the Farmers' Record. The result of that curtailment of the cattle supply is that the base on which to produce the vast numbers now annually required is restricted. There is another factor that enters very largely into the solution of the problem and that is that the people are demanding more than ever a finer quality of beef. There was probably never a time when the difference between the poorest and best meats in the markets was so great as it is today.

The buying of feeding lambs by Colorado feeders is progressing steadily and many of them have their plants in full blast. One extensive operator purchased 8,000 lambs in New Mexico at $1.75, buyer paying freight from Clayton; and 4,000 in Utah at $1.75, buyer again paying the freight. This gentleman last season paid $2.35 per lamb for stock that was not as good as it is this year. This feeder and his father operating in partnership have also purchased 10,000 Wyoming lambs at $3.50 per cwt. weighed in Rawlins on a twelve-hour shrink in a dry lot, the buyers paying freight charges. The Wyoming lambs are said to be very much farther forward in condition than those from either New Mexico or Utah and some of them will be ready for the Christmas trade. They now average over sixty pounds. It is the opinion of the Colorado feeders that lambs will not go lower than they are at present and that those who have not full stocks right now will if they wait two weeks longer have to pay more money.

Prevented A Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. KENTUCKY CROP REPORT.

Conditions of Crops, Nov. 1, 1900.

The weather during the month of October, with the exception of a few days of the second week, was like summer. Very light frosts occurred in the northern and eastern sections only. While there was insufficient rainfall for all purposes, there was enough to cause the fall sown grain to germinate and make a very satisfactory growth. Correspondents mostly complain of dry weather, but report wheat up and growing well. Rains seemed to be more abundant toward the close of the month, and probably relieved the symptoms of drought, and will continue the good condition of the wheat crop. About twenty correspondents report damage to the crop by fly, and it is greatly feared that the warm weather and advanced growth of the plant will cause much greater havoc if the same conditions of weather prevail for the next week or two, and that the insect will get such a lodgment at the root of the plant as to prove very destructive next spring.

An examination for the fly, in the flax seed form, will show its presence and close grazing later this winter, or in spring is recommended. This should be done by light stock, such as sheep and calves, and not in wet weather, or when the ground is soft.

Live stock is in average condition as to health or freedom from contagious diseases. A few counties report cholera among hogs, but the complaints on this score seem to be less than usual and this disease will not materially affect the number of hogs marketed, but from other causes a smaller number are being fed, the report for the State as a whole being 84.8 per cent, as compared with last year. An occasional report of "black leg," among cattle is made, but it does not seem to be malignant. No disease among sheep is reported. An outbreak of "greasy heel" is reported from Whitley county.

One Montgomery county correspondent says 80 per cent. of the clover sown last spring failed, and that no seed were saved in that county. The yield of clover seed in the State is below that of last year.

A Trimble county correspondent says peach trees are blooming which makes the prospect for the next year's crop very poor. This report comes from our best peach growing county.

A few counties only report "house-burn" of tobacco, and it may reasonably be hoped that damage from this cause is not wide-spread. One Anderson county correspondent reports damage from this cause as high as 30 per cent.; another county reports 70 per cent.; but this is meant probably to include damage in the quality of the whole crop of the county, rather than the amount of direct damage to the leaf. And the per cent. of damage only applies to the sections in which it exists. Jessamine county complains of damage to bluegrass from the white grub.

The indications are that the poor corn crop in Western Kentucky will show up still worse by reason of chafy quality and rotting.

Wheat sowing is about 95.5 as compared with last year—the falling in acreage being mostly in the First Division.

We have had the doctor and used many medicines, but Chamberlaine's Cough Remedy is now our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve the tough mucus and by giving frequent doses when the croupy symptoms appear we have found that the dreaded croup is cured before it gets settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by R. E. McRoberts. 1m Egotism makes a man believe the world thinks as much of him as he thinks of himself.

"I have used Chamberlaine's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and find it to be a great medicine," says Mr. E. S. Phipps, of Poteau, Ark. "It cured me of bloody flux. I cannot speak too highly of it." This remedy always wins the good opinion, if not praise, of those who use it. The quick which it effects even in the most severe cases make it a favorite everywhere. COMPRESSED AIR CLEANING.

The Idea Is Centuries Old—Mexican Women Use that Method in Washing Clothes.

"I sometimes wonder," said the man from the southwest, "relates the New York Sun, 'whether the inventor who turned compressed air to cleaning purposes thought he had a brand-new idea. If so, he was much mistaken. I saw air used for cleaning years ago. If I numbered my years by centuries instead of scores, I think I might have seen it at my birth just the same."

"The older method is primitive, of course. While the up-to-date system carries the air from a central station to the point of use, the original way is to press it on the spot. It is less dangerous. I first saw air used for the next to godly purposes years ago down in Mexico. A crowd of women were scattered along the banks of a stream. They knelt by flat stones at the edge of the water. By the side of each woman was the pile of garments to be washed. Each article had been thoroughly covered with soap from the soapweed. Nature is generous down there and grows the article."

"The women took the garments one by one and spread them out on the flat stones. Then they fluted and twisted and rubbed them to take the dirt out. Perhaps you imagine that they used the stone as a scrubbing board. Not at all. Mexican matrons don't like to patch and mend to make new clothes any better than those north of the border."

"The washers took the well-soaped garments and flung them over the stone with a flit which caught air underneath and puffed them up. This motion is similar to that of the spoon as the cook beats up the white of egg to make it light. The air caught in the wet cloth was kneaded out as the baker kneads the dough. It carried with it the dirt. The act was repeated again and again until the garment was white. The wear wasn't greater than on a modern scrubbing board, and the results are as good. I know, because I have worn shirts washed in that way. And this style of using air to clean was an old story, they tell me, when Nero ruled."

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR EYES.

Dr. R. Goldstein, of Louisville, who is known by the people of Lancaster and vicinity, has been here several days, and will remain for a few days longer to fit glasses to the eyes of all who need them.

He has made the study of optics a specialty, and anyone in need of glasses cannot do better than give him a call. He can be found at the Mason Hotel. Parents of children whose eyes are in any way afflicted should take them to Dr. Goldstein and have them examined. Too much care cannot be taken in this particular, as any neglect on the part of the parents may lead to most serious consequences in after life. If the eyes of the child need glasses the doctor can determine it and adjust such glasses as will be most apt to preserve and increase their strength. The doctor has been giving satisfaction for many years and we recommend him as worthy of the patronage of the public. Those suffering with their eyes should call on him, and if he doesn't give relief it will not cost them anything. He can adjust to any eyes and any age. A good glass rightly adjusted is a luxury to a person with failing sight they can ill afford to do without. A glass imperfectly adjusted is worse than no glass. Office of Mason Hotel.

CATARRH IS A CONSTITUTIONAL OR BLOOD DISEASE, and far beyond the reach of mere local remedies. Those who rely upon them for a cure lose valuable time, meet with disappointment and allow the disease to take firmer hold. Only a real blood remedy can reach this troublesome and dangerous disease.

S. S. S. cures Catarrh because it first cleanses and builds up the blood, purifies it, makes it rich and healthy, stimulates and puts new life into the sluggish worn-out organs, and thus relieves the system of all poisonous accumulations.

Mrs. Josephine Pohl, of Due West, S. C., writes: "I had Catarrh, which became so deep-seated that I was entirely deaf in one ear, and all inside of my nose, including part of the bone, sloughed off. When the disease had gone this far the physician gave me up as incurable. I determined to try S. S. S. as a last resort, and began to improve at once. It seemed to get at the seat of the disease, and after a few weeks' treatment I was entirely cured, and for more than seven years have had no sign of the disease."

S. S. S. is made of roots, herbs and barks of wonderful tonic and purifying properties. It is the only vegetable blood purifier known, and a certain and safe cure for all blood troubles. Send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases, and at the same time write our physicians about your case. They will cheerfully give you any information or advice wanted. We make no charge for this.

PERSONAL AND LITERARY.

Nearly everyone prices himself too high.—Acheson Globe.

William C. Whitney has already been offered $75,000 for his "Danae and the Golden Rain," by Titian, which he recently bought in Paris for $50,000.

At a recent sale of books in London a first edition copy of Cowper's "Poems," with the substituted leaf in the original boards and uncut, realized $30 10s.

Both the prince of Wales and King Victor Emmanuel of Italy have a nervous affection of the muscles of the face which makes the left eye blink constantly. To those acquainted with the infirmity it is hardly noticeable, but to strangers who have occasion to converse with either of them it is somewhat disconcerting.

A collection of the autograph correspondence between John Ruskin and Mr. Raymond Brown, who for many years was British consul at Venice, has been presented to the British museum by Mr. Cavendish Bentinck. The correspondence covers a period of over 50 years, including the time when Ruskin was prosecuting his art studies in Italy.

Lord Roberts excels in any exercise for which skill rather than strength is required. Less than ten years ago, when commander in chief in India, he carried off the prize for tent-pegging from the whole army under his command. He is an ardent huntsman, a keen cyclist, and during the autumn maneuvers preferred this mode of conveyance about the country.

Few are perhaps aware that Gen. Buller, in addition to being a brilliant strategist, is also a cooking expert, a connoisseur of wines and a first-class electrician. As a farmer he has few equals. His Devonshire estate bears eloquent testimony to this. He takes prizes at all the shows in the neighborhood, not only for beasts, but for flowers and vegetables also.

Queen Victoria always took the greatest interest in clothes her children wore. She would only allow simple and comparatively inexpensive materials for her little girls' gowns, freshness and simplicity being the keynotes to the royal children's toilettes. In summer the children wore washing frocks and plain white straw hats trimmed with ribbons, even when accompanying the queen to the public functions they were occasionally allowed to attend.

A Wonderful Offer to Women.

We have received word of a most remarkable offer which is to be made to women by The Delinquent, of New York.

Taking the fact that next year begins a new century, The Delinquent offers to distribute $17,500 among 1901 women. The plan is so cleverly arranged that a woman living in a small town or village, has just as good a chance to win one of these 1901 prizes as a woman living in a city—because the prizes are given for the number of subscriptions secured in a town in proportion to the population of that town, instead of being given simply to those who send the largest list of subscribers—which, of course, are most easily obtained in big cities. Another clever feature of the plan is, that all the cities and towns of the United States and Canada have been arranged in seven classes. The cities of the greatest population are grouped in Class 1, and as these cities are not very many, the prizes offered are twenty-eight; the highest prize being $500, and the lowest $500.

The total amount of prizes given away in this class is $1,000. The remaining smaller towns and villages fall into six other classes, and the number of towns in a class increases, because, of course, there are more small towns than large ones, the amount of prizes given away to a class increases, so that in Class 7, there will be $4,000 distributed among 601 winners.

Furthermore, to everyone who fails to win one of the 1901 prizes there will be paid an extra commission on subscriptions, provided they equal one out of every two hundred inhabitants of the town from which the contestant sends them.

This is altogether a very liberal offer, and one which the famous old Delinquent is well able to make good. From our point of view, we do not see why such an offer needs to be made by the Publishers of The Delinquent, for we believe it already has nearly half a million subscribers. Its strong hold upon the affections of American women has come in the past generation, from its practical advice about dress details and home matters.
